

CI groundbreaking for North Hall construction project rescheduled to Oct. 11

Camarillo, Calif., Oct. 7, 2010 - CSU Channel Islands (CI) has rescheduled a groundbreaking ceremony for the North Hall construction project to Monday, Oct. 11 at 1 p.m. The groundbreaking will take place in the North Quad of CI's campus and the public is cordially invited to attend the ceremony.

The North Hall facility will house a 120-seat lecture hall, seven lecture classrooms (totaling 315 stations), 3 computer labs, lecture/lab support spaces, faculty offices and support space, and administrative offices.

"This building will allow CI faculty to continue to prepare students for positions that directly contribute to the California workforce and continue our focus on being the leader in high quality, accessible, student-focused education," said President Richard R. Rush.

The building project, whose total cost is estimated at $32.6 million dollars, has been in the planning stages since fall 2005. It entered the design phase in spring 2007 but was stalled by the funding crisis at the end of 2008/beginning 2009, when the state stopped all capital projects.

John Gormley, Manager of Design Services stated, "North Hall will be ready for fall 2012 and will meet the critical need for space to accommodate lecturers, computer labs and faculty offices."

Parking on campus will be available in Lot A-4. Once on campus please follow the directional signs to the A-4 parking lot.
