

The Enterprise

APR 27 1987

Downtown Los Angeles' Weekly Newspaper Since 1901

Volume 87, No. 68

POSTMASTER SEND ADDRESS CHANGES TO THE ENTERPRISE
2815 S. VERNON AVE., LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA 90007

Friday, April 24, 1987

From The Prophetstown Echo, Prophetstown, Illinois

Pictured are the two candidates running for Mayor of Tampico. It's an important job. The President of the United States is a native son and representatives of news organizations from around the world often arrive in Tampico. They deal with the Mayor... as do representatives of other nations. It is important that the job be done with grace and sophistication.

Having foreign correspondents in Tampico has become old hat. They have been coming since 1976 when Ronald Reagan first announced his candidacy for President. And they still come for the fact that Tampico, is his birthplace. The past week saw Masato Tamura on Kenichiro Kayashi representing the Kyodo News Service in Japan. "We don't have place like this in Japan," Hayashi said, "and it's very impressive."

From The Sand Mountain Reporter, Albertville-Boaz, Alabama

We went to church Sunday. Rev. Haven brought a good sermon and the choir was good. They sang one of my favorite songs "Whispering Hope." It was beautiful. After church Kay and I ate at Kentucky Fried Chicken in Boaz and visited Estleen Pantak in the hospital.

Remember Mr. Shirley who is ill in a Huntsville hospital. He is the brother-in-law of Mrs. Sue Bright. He needs your prayers.

From the Saturday Times, Pawtucket, Rhode Island

Checker Cab's Fred Humes, sick and tired of "getting whacked in the back of the head," paid $250 out of his own pocket two weeks ago to get a partition installed in his taxicab.

George, will you please stop using words like "dichotomy?" You're driving me up a wall, for every big word sends me to the dictionary.

From The Napoleon Homestead, Napoleon, North Dakota

Mathilda Tarnasky got sick at home and Mrs. Harley Ketterling, took her to the Gackle clinic to see the doctor. She is better now.

From The Opp News, Opp, Alabama

Kelley Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Taylor, Opp, was crowned 1987 Miss Rattlesnake Rodeo Queen in late evening competition Friday.

Big NewsFROM LITTLE PLACES
by Jim BishopFrom The Big Timber Pioneer, Big Timber, MontanaSheriff's Report. Nuisance ringing of doorbells.Woman bitten by raccoon at an out-of-county bar. Matter referred to Stillwater County Sheriff's Department.Report of a man sitting in a car on a side street who looked like he needed help. Unfounded.From The Times, New Harmony, Indiana.Billie Tenbarge can't wait for the weather to warm up so she can go crap-pie fishing.70 Years Ago: A barrel of kisses was received at the Sweet Shop. They are the kind that sell for five cents a sack.*

Greetings! After a bout with the flu I do feel some better. A stopped up head, headache, drippy nose and watery eyes - Oh Boy! and you feel like you've been sent for and can't go. I haven't been outside for several days. No church Sunday either. Let's call the whole thing off!

From The Crawford County Independent and The Kickapoo Scout, Gays Mills, Wisconsin.Eleanor Gebel, 64, was westbound on Hwy. 18 at 2:30 p.m. Monday, when a deer ran into her car.

Jody Martin reported Friday that he suspected 500 pounds of milk were stolen. He discovered the drop in the amount of milk in his bulk tank Wednesday morning.

The Jack Daniels Original Silver Cornet band, a 13-piece group from Tennessee will perform at Martin Luther High School Gym in Prairie du Chien. Wednesday. The band will bring to life a vanished era in American musical history with such tunes as "Molly Malone", "And The Band Played On", and "Carolina In The Morning".

From The Ajo Copper News, Ajo, Arizona

Ajo resident Otto Houck is lucky he took the time last Friday to investigate the reason his vehicle was not starting as promptly as it usually does. When Houck checked under the hood he discovered a homemade bomb.

ASSEMBLYMAN JACK O'CONNELL PUSHES PET SAFETY LAW AT PRESS CLUB

Assemblyman Jack O'Connell (D-Santa Barbara) and Bob Barker, TV host, held a new conference earlier this week on O'Connell's legislation which prohibits the transportation of animals in the back of pickup trucks unless the animals are safely secured in a manner to prevent them from falling or jumping from the vehicle.

"There are three important issues at hand. One is the issue of public safety, second is the humane issue and third is the issue of public policy," O'Connell said, "Many serious accidents occur when motorists swerve to avoid hitting dogs that have jumped or been thrown out the pickups. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals estimates that as many as 100,000 dogs die each year in the United States due to these causes."

O'Connell noted that 14 counties and over 100 cities have adopted ordinances similar to AB 128, but that these laws vary from jurisdiction to jurisdiction, with some containing exemptions for farmers and others containing no exemptions. O'Connell's bill exempts the transportation of livestock or of a dog whose owner is employed in a ranching or farming operation.

"In some counties the penalty is a misdemeanor; in others it's an infraction," said Assemblyman O'Connell. "My bill would apply the same rules to both county roads and state highways. I believe making the law and the penalties consistent statewide is good public policy."

A demonstration was held featuring a device currently on the market which can be used to safely secure a dog riding in the back of a pickup truck. O'Connell stressed that he was not recommending any specific safety device because there are a number of them available, but wanted to demonstrate how easy it is to safely secure an animal in a moving vehicle. Jan Marie Kazarian, who demonstrated her "Save Your Dog Traveling Truck Leash" said that she began using and marketing her leash after one of her own dogs jumped from an open vehicle, tumbled to the pavement, and required expensive surgery.

O'Connell noted that he has received more correspondence supporting this bill than on any other bill he has carried since being elected to the State Assembly in 1982. A partial list of support for AB 128 includes the California State Automobile Association, the California Veterinary Medical Association, the Humane Society Association, the Association of California Insurance Companies, the Independent Insurance Agents and Brokers of California, and a number of cities and county boards of supervisors as well as numerous humane societies and animal welfare groups statewide. The California Highway Patrol is recommending that the Governor sign this bill into law.

AB 128 has passed the Assembly Transportation Committee and will next be heard in the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

ALBERT LUM NAMED TO FRENCH HOSPITAL BOARD and Real Estate Attorneys.

Lum currently serves as the President and Director for the Los Angeles Chinese Chamber of Commerce. In addition, he is a member and past officer of the Chinese American Citizens Alliance, a director of the Chinese Committee on Aging of Los Angeles, Inc., and Treasurer of Los Angeles-Taipei Sister City Committee.

Lum, born in West Memphis, Arkansas, graduated with a B.B.A. (Accounting) from Tulane University in New Orleans, Louisiana and from the University of Southern California with a LL.B.

BAUER NAMED TO TOP COLDWELL BANKER POST

Residential Group.

Formerly chief operating officer of Coldwell Banker Residential Real Estate in Boston, Bauer will now be responsible for Coldwell Banker residential franchise operations.