Summary of interview:

Juan had an overall positive experience with the bracero program. He did struggle with during his work, not only physically, emotionally, but spiritually as well. He was treated overall well by all supervisors, however, he did recall being treated like an animal once he arrived in the reception center. This only lead him to live in poverty during his time here but this motivated...