Computer Club upgrades to LV Tech Center

Mary Pinky Palladino researches her genealogy in the newly named Tech Center.

By Marion Green

One of the many great things about Leisure Village is that it is always open for change and ready for new technologies.

Recently the Computer Club went from club status to a subcommittee of the Ed and Rec Committee under the direction of Kathy Wirtz and her team. While there will no longer be club meetings, there are lots of exciting plans ahead for the newly named Tech Center. Once again, it is Leisure Village volunteers working towards putting these new goals into action.

To access the Computer Room, where there are both PCs and Macs, one must have a key. A "terms of use" form can be obtained at the Rec Office. After reading and agreeing to the terms, a $2 fee is submitted, and a key to the Computer Room will be issued. Folks will be able to access the Internet and the myriad of information available through that resource.

If you've never used the Internet, you are in for a wonderful experience. You'll find tutorials, health and financial resources, travel information, shopping and consumer protection sites, games, free services, educational sites and much more. Once you have an email address, you will be able to

Please see TECH on 11

Allow me an observation: Our Club News is getting less and less newsy. In fact, in some cases, it is getting, well — boring. So, may I suggest that those of you who are submitting Club News items look at the Men's Golf and Wii Bowling club news in this edition. Those are great examples of what Club News could — and should — be. Also, have you considered enhancing your submissions with photos? Our staff photographer is usually available; just ask.

And, please, please observe our deadlines. They are printed on Page 2 of every edition.

Villager focuses her life on helping, advising, healing

By Patty Ecker

Villager Mary Jane Porter was walking near the Rec Center recently when a woman approached her.

"I want you to know that if it weren't for the Health Fair, I would not have known I had a cancer in my eye until it was too late," she said. "Thank you for all you do."

Mary Jane smiles as she remembers the moment. Even though she retired from nursing more than a decade ago, she's up to her elbows in creating and leading programs that help, advise and sometimes even heal Leisure Village residents.

As longtime president of

Your Neighbors Care group, she reinvigorated the annual LV Health Fair, which last year featured 46 different health vendors and practitioners visited by more than 500 people.

"Nine years ago, there were only 12 booths. Now health providers begin calling us months ahead to get a spot in the Fair," she says proudly.

MJ (as many friends call her) moved here reluctantly in 2004 to be closer to her children (three sons, one daughter).

"We drove through the gate and I was sure I wouldn't like it," she remembers. But when a new friend suggested that she could be helpful in resuscitating Your Neighbors Care group, she took it on.

Village gets lesson in bus service

"Grab your coat and get your hat and leave your worries on the doorstep," as Ted Lewis used to sing.

It was a very good theme for this Sept. 19 meeting. Marion Green, as part of the Ed and Rec Committee, had coordinated with the CAT (Camarillo Transportation) and the VCTC (Ventura County Transportation Commission) to give a presentation on where and how to get around Ventura County on the bus.

There was a full audience gathered in the Garden Room

At services for Pat Busch, we were told, often movingly, of his deep dedication to family and friends. He was also lauded for his longtime chairing of the Finance Committee, where he worked to preserve and advance the interests of the Village. "Leisure Village," he told me more than once, "is one of a kind. They'll never build another one like it."

Each volunteer is a living memorial, emulating Pat's service to what he called "this unique paradise."

Tap dance instruction, anyone?

If anyone is interested in taking a tap class, sign up in the Recreation Office. It would meet the first and third Monday from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. on the stage in the AR. Cost would be $3 a class, and we would have an instructor come in. We are just in the planning stages but would like to see how many would be interested before we continue on.

So leave your name and number in the office and we'll see how many are interested. For more information call Sue-Ellen at 805-312-1991.

Wreath auction Oct. 20

By Lin Grant

The Booster Club is asking all LV Clubs and generous individuals to donate creative wreaths to be sold at a silent auction. The event, called The World of Wreaths, will be held Oct. 20 in the MPR, and all proceeds are needed to produce the annual Veterans Day Canteen in November.

The unique wreaths are designed to celebrate all holidays, seasons and occasions, even a new baby in the family. Not only do the Boosters need wreaths to be donated — the deadline is Oct. 16 — but we need Villagers to come to the sale and bid on a handmade wreath to be treasured for years. Think about them for holiday gift-giving.

For details of donating, call Marilyn Riveles at 805-383-5706. Please support the Veteran's Day Canteen by not only donating a wreath, but also purchasing one as well.

Wag 'n' Walk-a-Thon is Oct. 19

By Susan Amerikaner

Here's a real Bow-WOW of an event: Saturday, Oct. 19, at 9 a.m., the LV Pet Club's first Wag 'n' Walk-a-Thon! There will be walkers, prizes, pet treats, people treats, tons of fun — and all for a good cause: to raise funds for future pet projects in our Village. These future projects may include installations of pet water stations, waste bags and receptacles and perhaps even an off-leash play area.

All Villagers are invited to participate. There is a $10 registration fee. That entitles you to walk and to bring one dog along. A second dog is an extra $5. The event will begin in the Pavilion. There are three or four routes to take — from short and easy to a little longer and more challenging. Walk and wag at your own pace.

As with other walk-a-thons, it is hoped that you can get other folks to "sponsor" you. If possible, you are encouraged to get donations from friends and family, no matter how small. To get your registration forms, and for more info, please contact Wag 'n' Walk-a-Thon Coordinator Diane Walcutt at 796-9711.

The Pet Club is also selling T-shirts and hats with the LV Pet Club logo on them. If you want these in time for this event, you must order from Barbara Krohta by Oct. 7. Contact Barbara at 445-4809.

All participants will receive a bottle of water, a neck scarf for your pet, a pet goodie bag courtesy of Petropolis and some light refreshments at the end to restore your energy. Prizes will also be given to those who get the most donations. Since it is so close to Halloween, costumes for you — and your pup — are also encouraged, but not mandatory.

Please come out and wag your tails for the LV Wag 'n' Walk-a-Thon. Register now!

'Happy Days' fill workshop

*One, two, three o'clock, four o'clock rock,
.....nine, ten, eleven o'clock,
twelve o'clock rock,
We're gonna rock around the AR tonight.*

By Bob Cohen

And rock they did as the Players Guild brought back the music of the '50s while pushing the concept of a workshop to new limits.

Happy Days was much more than a workshop — it was a full production!

The fun began when more than a dozen teenagers piled into Cathy and Joyce's Malt Shop and jukebox heaven, and it didn't take long for the music to flow.

The '50s were a time of transition for the music industry. Early in the decade the music was slower and more romantic, as characterized by "Mr. Sandman" (lip-synced by Joyce Belcher, Cathy Friedman and Helen Hartman) and "Blue Moon" (Debra Guill). Then came Bill Haley and His Comets smash hit, "Rock Around The Clock" (sung as the finale by the entire cast.)

Joyce Schifanelli sings "Jambalaya" as the opening song of the Players Guild "Happy Days" workshop.

And the world changed.

The beat quickened and songs like "Sh.. Boom" (Art Akkerman, Bill Crome, Wayne King and Paul Schifanelli), "Its My Party" (Carol Miller) and "At The Hop" (Art with backup singers Bill, Buster Hayslett, Wayne and Paul) hit the charts.

The Players Guild presentation on Sept. 19 presented all those, and more — much more. Hits of the '50s such as "Jambalaya" (Joyce Schifanelli), "Chantilly Lace" (Buster), "Where The Boys Are" (Mary Anderson),

"Bye Bye Love" (Buster and Wayne), "Chapel of Love" (Carol Miller, Joyce and Mary) and "16 Tons" (Bill) were expertly sung. And who could forget "Volare," sung entirely in Italian by Paul?

It truly was Happy Days all over again, and producer/directors Joyce Belcher and Cathy Friedman are to be congratulated.

Living at home is possible even after suffering
a medical crisis

Caregiver can work with licensed medical professionals to make it a successful venture

By Sue-Ellen Colp

Sorting through the surprisingly complex world of senior care can be overwhelming.

Elder care studies have found that a majority of seniors (86 percent) want to continue living at home for as long as possible. Seniors appear to be willing to seek help to do that. Fifty-four percent of seniors who live alone are four times more likely to use professional care than those who live with their children.

It used to be that a medical crisis could spell the end for seniors in their own homes. But today, even older adults who suffer from chronic conditions or life-debilitating illnesses can still remain at home. Advances in technology and life-saving equipment have kept many seniors at home.

It's possible for an older adult to have both non-medical and home health care services concurrently. That's because the services of a licensed medical professional will be considerably different from those of a professional caregiver. Both focus on the safety, well-being and healing of an older adult. The professional caregiver will also focus on building a relationship with a senior.

To you it's about finding trustworthy care for aging loved ones. To me, it's about providing the highest quality in-home care services to fit you and your family's needs.

Next month I will discuss the ways in which to choose the best home care agency.

REALTORS CORNER

Applying for home mortgage can be long, arduous process

All aspects of financial life are analyzed

By Sharron Parker
Troop Real Estate Inc.

Since the banking crisis, applying for a home mortgage has become very demanding. Lenders require more paperwork from all borrowers that document every facet of financial life: taxable income, assets, rent payments and more.

Typical loan guideline requirements specify one month of verified income, proven with paycheck stubs. Also required are one or two years of Form W-2s.

Borrowers generally must supply bank and investment account statements for the last 30 days. An application for a jumbo loan could trigger a request for up to three months of statements. Today, almost everyone is expected to provide a recent tax return, including all the pages and schedules.

Borrowers must also sign IRS Form 4506T, which allows the lender to get a transcript of the tax return from the IRS. This practice has become an industry standard as fraud prevention.

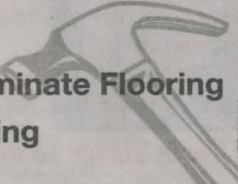

Tax returns are scrutinized for unreimbursed employee business expenses, self-employment business losses and telltale signs of loan fraud, such as reported income that doesn't match an employee's W-2. Amending a prior year's tax returns to show more income is now a no-no!

MJ Porter turns nursing career into a hobby

With MJ's leadership, the services provided by the group have become extensive: monthly blood pressure readings, the monthly StrokeAwareness program, Caregivers Support Group every Monday morning, and the annual flu shot event in the AR.

During her nursing career, "I loved caring for others," she says. "I retired once and hated it. So I went back to work for five more years as a geriatrics nurse until I relocated here."

Clearly, she brought her professional skills and caretaking in the moving van.

Speaking of moving, Mary Jane also is an integral part of the LV Travel Club. Whether coordinating Village getaways or escorting groups on the trips, she is a regular LV volunteer travel agent several mornings a month.

"I moved here from Florida; I didn't know anything about California," she recalls. "I learned all about this state by going on our trips."

On a history tour of Virginia City to horse races at Santa Anita or gambling in Laughlin, she's one of the team that makes sure travelers have fun, not problems.

"I'm the point person as the escort. My greatest fear is that we leave someone behind, but that's never happened," she laughs.

When she's back home, she's also a regular with the Players Guild, the club that gives Villagers the chance to be in the spotlight with theater, music and dance for audiences in the AR. As a teen, Mary Jane loved the theater and considered acting as a career (obviously, nursing won). As a Villager, she enjoys theater from a different vantage point.

"I am the left side backstage manager now," MJ explains, for many of the club presentations. As such, she makes sure that performers, props and technicalities are ready when and where they should be.

Mary Jane Porter knows that Leisure Village is right where she should be.

"It's a wonderful place to live – beautiful and safe, and... so many things to do," she says with a giggle, as she goes off to her next meeting.

Oct. 19, Rhythm Kings; and Oct. 26, Tropic Starr for our Annual Halloween Dance, with costumes if you wish.

It's fun to dress up for our dances. It lifts the spirit. Please come for dancing to live music or just listening, 7:30 to 10 p.m. in the AR. Admission is $7 per person.

As always, punch and great popcorn are provided. See you there for the fun.

New bowling season begins

By Bob Cohen

The excitement in the air was palatable when the 16 teams of the Leisure Village Bowling League gathered at Harley's Camarillo Bowl for the opening day of the 2013-2014 league season and awaited the traditional "good luck and good bowling" to kick things off.

And the games began. Three hours and 192 games later, there were the usual assortment of winners and losers. The winners included the teams that won all four possible points — and, well, their opponents were in the other category.

Of course, most teams ended in the middle, winning some and losing some.

The other winners were those bowlers who scored over 200 pins scratch (not including the handicap). They included new member Art Matter, whose first league game racked up 236 pins — an impressive start to say the least!

Returning bowler Dennis Durand had three 200-plus games (218, 224 and 244) while Alan Singer scored a not too shabby 211 and 214. In addition, Leonard Belcher racked up an impressive 205.

Of course, many of the bowlers participated in the side pot (side bet) activity where the male and female bowler with the highest handicap score (actual average plus handicap) took home a few extra dollars. Winners this day were Art Matter, Dennis Durand and Alan Singer for the men and Gerry Liebowitz, Gail Singer and Bobbi Schmerling for the women.

At 97-plus, Jerry Schneider proves you're never too old to bowl.

As in the past, the league membership represents a typical cross section of LV residents, ranging from those barely eligible for residency to our super senior, soon to be 98 years old, Jerry Schneider.

Jerry carries a very respectable 135 average.

Lady golfers speed up play

By Ann Rogers

Women's Golf participants play "Ready Golf" to speed up play. On the fairway, if you are ready to hit your ball when the player whose ball is farther from the pin is delayed and not ready, you may hit your ball. This applies when your ball is not significantly advanced ahead of that other player's ball.

In early September we were relieved to have some cooler mornings to start our Ringer tournaments. Then the heat came back. As of this writing

The doors open at 1 p.m. for you to select your place at this special table seating arrangement. Tooth Decay & Gum Disease May Affect Your Overall Health Making an educated decision on dental implants requires knowledge from a qualified resource, Anacapa Dental.

Facts

- Immediate results
- Teeth are secure like natural teeth
- No more ill-fitting dentures
- Fewer dental visits
- Eliminates denture adhesives
- Life changing procedure
- Cost effective compared to traditional implants
- Less pain and swelling
- Implants are a minimally invasive procedure

You can have teeth in as little as just one day!!!

Choosing a PROsthodontist

It is essential to begin the consultation process with a board certified PROsthodontist. Whether a patient requires one implant or a complete upper and lower arch restoration, the precise placement of the implant and the positioning of the prosthetic teeth are crucial. Because the end result should offer maximum dental function, superior esthetics and total comfort, the engineering expertise of this specialist is key to long term satisfaction.

Advanced Training Matters

The training of PROsthodontists enables them to perform more complex procedures and employ advanced strategies. They envision the function of the final smile in the patient's mouth even while placing the implants. When the same contractor oversees each step of a new building, it ensures that everything is in the right place at the right time. Similarly, the PROsthodontist's design from implant placement to the final restoration delivers the best results.

Be An Educated Consumer of Dental Care

All dental implants are not created equal. And all procedures are not as predictable as those performed at Anacapa Dental. Since dental implants are a significant investment in quality of life, it is wise to understand what dental implants are, why the cost of dental implants cannot be reduced without sacrificing quality, and why Anacapa Dental is your best choice to create the smile of your life.

took place in Fountain View's beautiful facility in Reseda on Saturday morning, Aug. 24. LV Wii Bowlers were greeted with smiles, pastries, hot beverages and the promise of stiff competition.

Fountain View Wii Bowlers Loretta Ehreg, Sam Berman, Lee Weinstein and Paul Treitman delivered on their promise, taking the first of two sets with 823 total pins to LV's 818 total pins. However, despite the slow start, LV's Sylvia Edmunds, Barbara Bell, Joan Levy and William Lamar came back with a tremendous 918 total pins to Fountain View's 768 total pins in the second set.

Leisure Village Wii Bowling Club won the competition with a total of 1,736 pins to Fountain View's 1,591. Sylvia Edmunds thrilled the packed room bowling 279, with seven consecutive strikes in the second game. William Lamar was cheered when he knocked down an unbelievable split, and the performances of Barbara Bell and

LV Pet Club

By Susan Amerikaner

It's been a great late summer at the Pet Club. In August, the Ventura County Sheriff's Department brought amazing dogs to demonstrate how the K-9 Search and Rescue Unit helps the community.

In September, former L.A. City Prosecutor Robert Ferber educated us on the history of legal attitudes toward animal cruelty and neglect. L.A. has come a long way in taking the issue seriously and now assigns officers to investigate and lawyers to prosecute.

Ferber also addressed the issue of liability for your own pet. Keeping your dog on a leash is mandatory. If a dog injures a person or another animal when off-leash, the owner can face criminal prosecution! Even if your dog is on-leash, it can cause injury or damage, such as jumping up and biting someone before you

Racquet Club

By Trish Zakas

It's time for 2014 board elections. Thus, the Racquet Club meeting this month, Wednesday, Oct. 9, at 6 p.m., is a combination potluck dinner and board nominations meeting. The dinner meeting is in the MPR. One volunteer needed for 2014 is a writer for e-news and the Inside Leisure Village Racquet Club column. If you can do this task, or for any questions about the potluck dinner, call Diane Carroll at 419-4325. The court bulletin board has the sign-up for dishes to contribute.

Ladies, before coming to the potluck dinner, please clean out your jewelry boxes, looking for costume jewelry and scarves you no longer use. The Leisure Village Women's Club needs these items, and this is a way for our club to help support the good works of one of our sister organizations. Bring your usable cast-offs to the potluck meeting and give them to Trish, who is acting as a collection point for the Women's Club.

Paddle tennis players: Mark Oct. 26 on your calendar. That is the morning awesome players from Venice will be here to give us a clinic designed to improve our game. The sign-up sheet is on the court bulletin board and is limited to 40 people — Racquet Club members only, no guests unless we have vacant slots. Cost is $7 for the day's event and lunch. Activities will include skills and drills to improve strokes and net play, an exhibition match by some of the best players around, and play-with-a-pro. In addition, racquet reps will be here to show off their newest paddles; you will have a chance to hit with those as well. The clinic should end around 2:30 p.m., but you can pick and choose what activities you want to participate in if you can't stay

The free class meets in the AR Mondays and Wednesdays from 11 a.m. to noon. Optional: If you have them, bring a mat, free weights or large exercise ball. Need more info? Call Diane Knoff at 482-8666. Men's Golf Club

By Rob Sollett

Hey, welcome back.

Golf great Ben Hogan was guest speaker at the September LVMGA club meeting. Well, with the assistance of electronic recordings on a very big screen.

John Steiner graciously provided the first of three DVDs highlighting the golf great. The remaining two will be played at the October and November meetings. A must see if you're a fan of golf history.

"I have been a fan of Ben Hogan for the past 60 years. I'm very impressed with his swing," Steiner said.

John's home is adorned with Hogan memorabilia from his years of collecting. Photos cover the walls. Vintage Hogan clubs are encased in custom wood frames fixed onto his study wall. Books occupy the coffee table. A collectible empty Hogan bag sits in a corner of a room that once housed — you guessed it — Hogan clubs.

"Where's the clubs?" I asked. "I play with them. They're in my other bag," he answered.

Last November, Steiner defeated former club member Ron Dalton
