Wildfires and LV's Emergency Exercise: Teachable Moments Corner Largest wildfire in state history draws attention to importance of Village preparation It took more than three weeks for firefighters to control the horrific wildfires that burned through Ventura and Santa Barbara last month. Leisure Village residents were safe from the flames, but not protected from the ever-present air pollution and frightening dark smoke towering across the horizon for days. With jeopardy that close, what was learned about disasters from a personal and a community point of view?

It was an eerie coincidence that the Village's long-planned Disaster Preparedness Exercise (DPX) was held on December 7 against the background of the very real Thomas Fire. The DPX, sponsored by LV's Emergency Preparedness Committee, tests its simple plan that in a disaster could provide life-saving

Villager Volunteer Aids Thomas Fire Victims

By Patty Ecker

When the Thomas Wildfire exploded across the horizon on December 4, LV residents watched the huge smoke plumes or turned to news outlets for information or tried to contact family and friends who might be in harm's way, all from the security of Camarillo. Villager Sharon Shou knew she had to do more. In a matter of hours, she was on her way to the Ventura County Fairgrounds where the largest Red Cross shelter was being set up and where hundreds of fire victims found safety. "I wasn't sure what they'd need. But I knew I needed to be there," she explains.

Sharon, just a month before, had completed Red Cross certification for a licensed counselor. She walked into the shelter ready to help fire victims. She worked 56 hours after that first shift. "I started by observing, not asking 'How are you doing?' As I walk through the shelter, I try to identify what a person needs right at the moment."

Sharon recalls a woman sitting alone staring at her flip phone. "I asked her if she had been in touch with anyone.

LV Resident Ed Vasquez Recognized by Veterans Organization

By Tim Palmer

Leisure Village resident Ed Vasquez was recognized by the Gold Coast Veterans Foundation for his work in creating the Leisure Village Veterans Memorial, located in front of the Recreation Center. The award was delivered by the Leisure Village Association Board of Directors at the November Open Board Meeting. The memorial is a display of ribbons received by Leisure Village residents up through the year 2000. Ed handcrafted each ribbon in ceramic tile to exactly duplicate the awards. Additionally, the ribbons were assembled and are displayed in the actual military precedence due each award. It is significant to note that the top left ribbon (the highest ranking ribbon) reflects the award of the Silver Star to one of our residents. The Silver Star is the third highest award given a service member and is reflective of heroic

Leisure Village Budget

— A Process That Can Be Trusted

By Tim Palmer

Most of us know very little about the Leisure Village Association budget process, except that it affects our Association dues each year, usually in an upward direction. How is that determined?

The formulation of the Leisure Village Association budget is a very lengthy, deliberative process that involves our fellow residents and the Board of Directors. The Finance Committee is led by resident George Jones and consists of 12 other residents who make up the committee.

The initial budget is prepared by the Association Department heads. Those departments are: Recreation Center, Security, Landscape Support, Resident Services and Administration. The initial budget consists of the anticipated costs each department will incur during the next fiscal year. Those costs are both fixed and variable, plus additional requirements not budgeted in previous years. The budget also includes anticipated contributions to reserves and capitol expenses. It is then reviewed by the General Manager, who submits it to the Finance Committee in August.

The members of the Finance Committee, our neighbors who have extensive experience in finance, receive the budget and evaluate every item, line by line. The committee assigns two members to review each department and they consider expenses from previous years as well as other variables, prior to recommending an approved amount for their assigned department. Those recommendations are brought to the full committee in a closed meeting in November. From that meeting, the committee provides their recommendation to the Board of Directors for consideration in December.

A town hall meeting is held in January to explain the budget to the community and answer any attendant questions. Subsequently, the budget is voted on by the Board of Directors in their February meeting.

At last month's Women's Club holiday party, members members celebrated together and raised money in a very sweet way.

Club in the Spotlight

■ The Women's Club: Solid Tradition with a New Message

Don't be misled, say its members. The Women's Club may be the oldest Leisure Village club – it was founded in 1973 – but it is not your grand-mother's social organization. "Our goal is to create a spirit of good will among residents and support good works inside the Village and outside in Camarillo," says Shearon Millar, President of the Women's Club.

It is one of the most visible clubs in the Village. With 295 members (45 are men, by the way), it provides a wide range of opportunities for residents including monthly meetings that feature professional entertainment and social time. Members can also volunteer to raise money in the popular Boutiques.

The twice-monthly Boutiques offer good deals on, jewelry, handmade wooden items, and hand-sewn items like aprons or baby blankets. "We offer Villagers the opportunity to avoid buying one more thing made in Asia," explains Shearon with a smile, "and to support a good cause close to home at the same time."

Those good causes supported or paid for by the Women's Club are all around the Village. The automatic doors into the Rec Center? Donated by the Women's Club. TV sets in the Clubhouse? Donated by the Women's Club. Woodshop equipment? Benches along LV's walking paths? You know the answer. The numbers are impressive. Since 1977, the Women's Club has given $400,000 to good causes inside and outside our Village. Member dues are $10 per person, which underscores how valuable its fund-raising efforts like the Boutique, See's Candy Sales, and the annual Fashion Show are.

But members worry about the future. The Club and Boutiques need volunteers willing to participate a few hours a month. New residents who are still working or have just retired may be reluctant to join. Longtime member and current Club Secretary Chi Chun was at first. "I didn't know anyone when I first joined. But now here are some of my best friends," she says. "We feel good because we are doing good." The Women's Club hopes that message will be heard across the Village.

REALTOR CORNER

Thinking of Selling your Home?

By Sharron Parker

Leisure Village homes have sold quickly this past year and for increased selling prices. The Ventura County Multiple Listing Service shows only 8 active listings in Leisure Village as of this date of 12/12/2017. For more specific information regarding your home or like-model homes, contact an experienced Leisure Village Realtor for a current Comparative Market Analysis.

If you're thinking of selling your home, an understanding of the California Association of Realtors Residential Listing Agreement will be helpful. Important items to consider on the listing agreement are length of listing period, listing price and commission to broker. It is wise to allow the broker to put up a sign and install a lockbox, which holds a key allowing other agents to show the property. Be sure to take precautions to protect valuables that might be accessible during showings.

The listing agreement and purchase agreement have Dispute Resolution information. The seller should read this carefully to determine his/her legal choice regarding mediation, arbitration, possible litigation. It is legal in California for a broker to represent both seller and buyer, which must be disclosed to the seller as soon as possible when presenting an offer.

Your Realtor will explain and guide you through the extensive, required paperwork, in addition to marketing your home, negotiating the offer and protecting your interests.

information. Residents are asked to put their "OK" signs in their front windows so volunteer coordinators (their neighbors) can assess who is safe and who is not. Committee Co-Chair Ron Franz was disappointed in the results: 67% of residents posted the OK sign. "It's apathy or denial," he says. "People think disasters happen to others." Ironically, Franz got calls from people outside the Village during the fires. "One woman asked how she could evacuate her 98-yearold mother," he recalls. "Another said she saw smoke and asked where she could go." He has no idea how they got his number.

The EPC Committee focuses on how to convince Villagers of the importance of being prepared for an emergency. "County Fire and Police officials have told us repeatedly that Villagers should be ready to be selfsufficient for 3 to 5 days," Franz explains. "That means having your own food, water, medication, even portable lights or a generator."

Preparation for a disaster "is not a question of if but when," adds EPC Co-Chair Paul Wason. His Village 13 responded well to the DPX. But he added that 8 villages have no EPC coordinators to help neighbors prepare for an exercise or a real emergency. He urges residents to look at The Thomas Fire – nearly 900 homes destroyed, 290,000 acres burned – as motivation to help each other and ourselves be ready.

He and Ron Franz repeat the same message, "Self-reliance is the key. Practice, practice, practice, so when it happens, our instincts will kick in and keep us safe."

Is That a Cat, Bob?

By Patrick Moore

A recent spike in bobcat sightings reported by Leisure Village residents is not likely to subside in the near future, if state wildlife biologists' past research results continue to hold true. It is expected that California's littlest wild cat will continue to tread through the Village from time to time during the winter weeks ahead. Wildlife biologists say the bobcat is found in nearly all locations in the state with a preference for rocky, brushy hillside habitat that can be found just outside LV gates. Additionally, bobcat mating behavior is similar to that of a house cat, Fish and Wildlife said. Young are usually born spring to summer with most arriving in April and May. Litters average three kittens, born blind and dependent on mama cat for several months.

Recent increased sightings within the Leisure Village community, therefore, can be attributed to the maturity of kittens born last season coupled with prolonged winter night-time hours that allow the primarily nocturnal cats -- again, similar to the habits of a house tabby -- to roam for longer periods. LV residents can reasonably expect, therefore, to spot the normally secretive bobcat more frequently than might otherwise be the case. This increased sighting rate does not indicate a substantial increase in the overall bobcat population.

Sporting long legs and large paws, a bobcat will average 15-20 pounds with the occasional, uncommonly

Increased sightings of Bobcats in the LV Community have led to heightened awareness larger article weighing up to 30 pounds. The common name, bobcat, is a reference to the critter's short, six-seven inch-long tail that is always white in color with a black tip. That bobbed tail is the chief indicator, in addition to it's much smaller size, to differentiate the relatively tiny feline from its' considerably larger cousin, the mountain lion, Southern California's only, other wild cat species.

Chief Manny Segovia, Leisure Village security supervisor, said his department response to most wildlife sighting reports will result in counseling regarding our close proximity to wildlife habitat, smack against the Conejo Creek barranca and surrounded by the Conejo Mountains and Las Posas Hills.

Observations of a more serious nature, such as a sick or injured animal, or even more crucial cases such as animal actions that directly threaten residents, can result in LV security personnel contact with Camarillo City Animal Services officers for advise and direction, or if required, direct, in-person assistance, depending on the situation.

"We can capture and relocate rattle snakes (for instance), but for other, larger animals we will get help from animal control," Segovia said.

Nevertheless, a resident who spots a bobcat in the back yard and wishes it captured and removed as a matter of course is out of luck. It is best to remember that Leisure Village was the bobcat's back yard long before we moved in.

In ancient times, cats were worshiped as gods. They have not forgotten that.

She said she couldn't because she had no numbers in her phone." Sharon's smart phone helped solve that. She gently approached an elderly woman who wouldn't leave her cot. Slowly she admitted to Sharon that she had forgotten to bring her much-needed cane when she was evacuated from her home. Sharon alerted the Red Cross staff who provided wheelchair assistance.

The shelter was home for nearly three weeks to more than 230 people – young and old, wealthy and homeless, healthy and ill, Sharon says. Her goal was to make short-term positive connections with these vulnerable fire victims. A young man in bloody pants lay on a cot silently staring at the ceiling for hours. Eventually, he told her he'd been homeless, was having "flashbacks" and wished he had clean clothes. Sharon suggested they find replacements in the busy clothing warehouse, and he did. When she noted the warehouse needed volunteers, the young man nodded and began to help. After that, he stayed busy and smiling.

Sharon Shou has lived in Leisure

Village 16 years, working full time in corporate vocational rehabilitation until her retirement in June. But resting was not her style, which is why she chose to complete her professional counseling license. The Ventura shelter was her first assignment; she worked from 7:00 AM to 5:00 PM with few days off until December 21. "It was exhausting and inspiring," she explains. "So many giving so much - food, haircuts, clothing, 80-year-olds playing with little kids. I want everyone to know how much can be accomplished when we help each other."

Life in Paradise

By Rick Wilkman

If you took a survey of residents on what attracts them the most to Leisure Village, a common response would be the beautiful landscape and great expanse of turf grass that can be seen throughout the Village.

Ask the same residents what they think of drought-tolerant planting, many would say they don't like the idea of black plastic covered with white rock and a sparse planting of desert vegetation.

Living in paradise comes at a price. A significant portion of our HOA fee goes to maintaining the turf grass we have in the Village. The 2016 Master Plan from the Long Range Planning Committee recommended implementing more drought-tolerant landscaping. So the Building and Grounds Committee came up with the idea of offering an alternative to reducing the amount of turf grass in the Village while retaining a beautiful landscape.

We call it a "Water Wise Concept Garden." It is a garden that will give our residents a visual display of plants that can be placed in selected common areas complimenting the existing landscape while reducing the amount of turf grass. Plants are selected for color and flowers ranging from blue, green, red, and white with a variety of structure and growth pattern. All plants are easy to maintain and use less water.

Happy 2018 to all. In case you missed it, we had two very successful sold out tours last month. The first was a fabulous tour to Edwards Air Force Base, and we were lucky to have with us several villagers who once lived and/or worked there. Watching the planes land from the flight line was especially rewarding for me. The second trip, to the LA Zoo, put each of us in the holiday spirit. From a delicious meal with carolers serenading us, to the interesting display of lights put on by the Zoo. Simply amazing...

The new "Bowtie in the Sky" – LV's state-of-the-art emergency antenna drew residents to the Club's Open House.

THE AMATEUR RADIO CLUB

By Jonathan Fox

The LV Amateur Radio Club received its first award from the International Amateur Radio Union. As a club, KJ6LV was awarded the Worked All Continents certificate. A confirmed contact must be made in all six of the world continents. For North America, we had Canada, South America was Argentina, Oceania was Australia, Asia was Asiatic Russia, Europe was Luxembourg, and for Africa, we worked Morocco.

On Wednesday, December 13th, the award was presented at the Club's Holiday Party. There were prizes, refreshments, and time to reflect on our Open House with photos taken by Ed Vasquez.

The contrast between the old antenna and the new "Bowtie" antenna is dramatic. To all the residents who donated to the project, we want to say thank you for making a big difference in our communication capability. Our upgraded ham radio station is now a premier facility in the Ventura County emergency services network. We look forward to using it more and more. We want to wish you a healthy and happy New Year!

IN OTHER WORDS

By Frank Seiden

We extend our condolences to our member Al Beaudry, who lost his wife in early

In early December. Al has provided us with poems to discuss for the last couple of years.

We'll return in January with the holiday spirit still warm in our minds and with hope for a good year ahead. We start the New Year with beginning lessons in creative writing and will grow in depth over the next couple of years. Some say there are rules to writing, but there are exceptions to almost all of them, so I consider them as guidelines.

Our meetings will be January 10 and 24 in the Lanai Room from 2 to 4:00 p.m. We look forward to seeing you all with your stories and poems whether or not about holiday experiences.

BILLIARDS CLUB

By Patrick Price

The Billiards Club will host a Scotch Doubles Tournament beginning Monday, February 5 and continuing to the 15th. Scotch doubles is a game of pool with its own rules. Randomly paired partners alternate shooting until one misses in their "inning." Then, the opposing team does the same for their inning. Sign-up sheets will be posted in January. Also, in January, we plan to practice the rules during the popular Thursday night round robin. Be there at about 6:00 p.m. to sign-up and hear the rules. You don't have to be a member of the Billiards Club to participate in the round robin practice to learn pool. LRC is available for those not playing pool. The Billiards Club will not have a membership meeting in January.

Modern advances in dental science now allow us to offer patients safe, successful and proven procedures for the installation of permanent non-removabl replacement teeth supported by artificial dental root forms called dental implants. These tooth replacements look, feel and function like natural teeth.

Dental implants have solved many problems associated with tooth loss that previously required replacement by removable full or partial dentures.

Missing Multiple Teeth? DENTAL IMPLANTS CAN BE THE ANSWER. Are Dental Implants Right For You? FREE CONSULTATION

SOME OF THE BENEFITS INCLUDE:

COST EFFECTIVE Because only one tooth is replaced rather than the three teeth of a bridge, dental implant tooth replacement can actually cost less than the traditional bridgework.

TOOTH-SAVING Dental implants do not sacrifice the quality of your adjacent teeth like a bridge does because neighboring teeth are not altered to support the implant. Your own teeth are left untouched, a significant long-term benefit to your oral health!

COMFORT Dental implants will allow you to once again speak and eat with comfort and confidence. They are secure and can offer freedom from the troublesome clicks and wobbles of loose dentures. Say goodbye to misplaced dentures and messy pastes and glues.

RELIABLE The success rate for dental implants is highly predictable. They are considered an excellent option for tooth replacement.

NATURAL LOOKING For all practical purposes dental implants look and function like your own natural teeth.

Find out if dental implants are right for you, with our No-Cost, No-Obligation consultation appointment. Let us help restore the confidence and comfort that only permanent dental implants can provide.

We look forward to providing you with the personal care you deserve.

VILLAGE ARTS

By Patti Crichton

We are excited to begin a new year with Village Arts. Our first meeting was January 3 at in the MPR. Our guest was Camarillo Art Centre board member and LV resident, Kathy Whitesell. Kathy demonstrated her watercolor techniques and shared some secret tips. Kathy will be conducting a watercolor class, to be scheduled for later in January.

President David Kiefer, will be displaying his art in the Library. Regular art workshops are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, and Friday afternoons. The Lanai Room is available 1-5:00 p.m. for independent artists. You may use our supplies or bring your own. Tables, watercolor, acrylic, pastel and collage materials are on site.

We look forward to watercolor artist, Stephanie Fielden at our meeting on February 7. Stephanie has an art background and has been painting and teaching watercolor at the Cancer Support Community for a number of years. She will be offering a watercolor class here at LV in February. You may sign up for the class at the February meeting.

Village Arts membership is only $10 per year. We have talented artist demonstrations, snacks, and social time, at our monthly meetings. We meet on the first Wednesday of each month at 1:00 p.m. in the MPR, interspersed with special gatherings and events. Come out, experiment, and enjoy art activities with friends!

COOKING WITH LARRY

By Larry Swartz

Preferring to remain incognito, the "silent smoker" lives in Leisure Village and roams Camarillo looking for salmon to smoke. No, he doesn't roll it up in paper but he does season it well and smokes it in his smoker. I've tasted it and I can tell you it is a little bit of soft, delicate, lightly smoked heaven; and as it is with most intensely flavored food, even a little taste is extremely satisfying. Al grew up cooking and as he grows older he continues to love to cook...makes his own pickles, sauerkraut just to name a few. When you accidentally run into him at the pool, it's never "how you doing" - it's always "what you been cookin"???? Never "how about those Rams," always" how bout' those yams"

So you might wonder why this month's column doesn't include a recipe for Al's Home Smoked Salmon...

well, I said he likes to be "unknown" and I think that makes his Smoked Salmon even better plus "The Silent Stuffer" didn't quite have the ring I was looking for in a title but, I can tell you his stuffed peppers are also pretty darn good. Actually, it's the "stuffing" that makes these peppers so special. You could also use it to make stuffed cabbage. Always remember that if a dish can be frozen, make the best use of your time in the kitchen by doubling the recipe and freezing what's left.

INGREDIENTS

- 1 medium onion
- 1 medium carrot
- 1 large rib celery
- 2 cloves garlic
- 1 # ground turkey, chicken. Pork or any combo of the three
- 1 beaten jumbo egg free of bruises (sorry, bad joke)

- 1 cup cooked brown rice or wild/brown rice mixture or any rice of your choice except no instant rice
- 3 medium roma tomatoes Italian blend seasoning
- 10 oz. can tomato sauce

Golfers on the DL (Disabled List)

Two veteran members of the Men's Golf Club leaned on their canes as they traded progress reports in a kind of a reunion one recent Tuesday morning. Geoff Millar, on the left, is recovering from hip surgery (his second) and plans to resume playing in early February. John Wirtz, the Club's Chief Starter is recovering from recent medical procedures and says that he, too, hopes to be back in competition in February.

HEALTH CORNER

Lowering your Cholesterol Reduces Heart Attack Risk

By Andy Smith

Because there are seldom signs or symptoms of high blood cholesterol, many people are not aware that their cholesterol level may be too high. People over 65 or at risk should discuss with their doctors how often they should be tested.

The Two Types of Cholesterol

Low-density lipoproteins (LDL), called "bad" cholesterol, carry cholesterol to all cells in your body, and can build up in the walls of your arteries. Higher LDL cholesterol levels in your blood increases your chances of getting heart disease. High-density lipoproteins (HDL), called "good" cholesterol, helps remove cholesterol from your artery walls, then the liver removes the cholesterol from your body. Lower HDL levels reduces your chances of getting heart disease.

The Dangers of High LDL Cholesterol

Artherosclerosis. The buildup of cholesterol, called plaque, can narrow your arteries, and can slow down or block the flow of blood to your heart.

Coronary Heart Disease (CHD). Artherosclerosis can occur in blood vessels anywhere in your body. If plaque builds up in the coronary arteries that bring blood to your heart, the blood may not be able to bring enough oxygen to the heart muscle.

Angina. The buildup of plaque can lead to chest pain called angina, a common symptom of CHD. It happens when the heart does not receive enough oxygen-rich blood from the lungs.

Heart Attack. Some plaques may rupture or break open, which can then form a blood clot. A clot can block the flow of blood through the artery, causing a heart attack.

Prevention

Lowering your cholesterol level reduces your chances of plaque rupturing and a heart attack. Certain foods have types of fat that raise your cholesterol level.

Avoid:

Saturated fat raises your LDL levels more than anything else. Choose leaner cuts of meat, low-fat dairy and monounsaturated fats, as found in olive and canola oils.

Trans fatty acids (trans fats) are in fried foods and many commercial products, such as cookies, crackers, and snack cakes. Avoid foods with partially hydrogenated oils.

Cholesterol is found in foods that come from animal sources, such as egg yolks, meat, and cheese.

Things to do:

Eat foods rich in omega-3 fatty acids, which increase HDL cholesterol. Good sources are salmon, mackerel, herring, walnuts, almonds, and ground flaxseeds.

Increase soluble fiber, which helps lower your LDL level. Good sources are oats, oat bran, fruits, beans, lentils, and vegetables.

Add whey protein. Whey protein given as a supplement lowers both LDL and total cholesterol.

Watch your weight. Being overweight tends to increase your LDL levels, lower your HDL levels, and increase your total cholesterol. Regular exercise can help you lose weight and lower your LDL levels.
