Leisure Village has two special days this month. The first is Mother’s Day, May 13, a day in which to recognize our mothers and for men to recognize the mothers of their children. The title of “Mother” is an all-encompassing word that has more meaning than “Governor,” “Senator,” or even “President.” While the previous titles bring about thoughts of responsibility and authority, they cannot come close to having the impact a mom has on an individual, from birth to death. While we are seniors here in Leisure Village, most all of us can easily remember our mom’s actions, admonishments and praise. When it comes to powerful people, “Mom” beats all. Let’s give each mom in our lives the praise and admiration she deserves on May 13.

The second special day is May 17, when our Board Candidates appear on Candidates Night in the AR. It is the best time to see and hear the people who are running to fill two Board of Directors positions. As with any election, an informed vote is important, and May 17 will be the day to learn what the candidates are about.

—Enjoy the issue!

This event is a major fundraiser for the Club that contributes so much to Village life.
Neighbors held a surprise party for Ernie Petersen to celebrate her 101st birthday.

ERNIE PETERSEN: IN THE TOP TEN

She loves the view from her house – the 9th hole of the golf course and all that surrounds it. Because of that vista, Ernie Petersen made a snap decision six years ago. She bought this Leisure Village house the first day it was on the market and moved out of Los Angeles, which was her home for 95 years. She’s never regretted the move. “I love the climate here, and I can go to the Bocce Court every day,” she explains with a smile.

Ernie celebrated her 101st birthday on April 19. She’s a member of a very special group here: only 10 Villagers (out of more than 3000 residents) are between the ages of 100 and 104. The rest of her statistics may be unique. She exercises every day. She plays billiards twice a week. She played volleyball into her ‘70s. Now it’s Bocce, although she stopped temporarily when she broke her hip last year. (It’s recovering nicely, thank you).

She worked for years for a CPA firm. (She laughs as she remembers that her first CPA job paid $12 a week.) She raised two children and has four grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Her son and daughter-in-law moved to the Village first (by several years). And they showed her the house she now lives in. Her children pre-deceased her, but her daughter-in-law Marg still lives in the Village. There’s some disagreement about who keeps an eye on whom.

“I don’t have a secret about how to live past 100,” Ernie says with a smile. “I’ve stayed active all my life. I’ve always been healthy.”

a match for the Amelsbergs.

Seventeen years later, Pat and Jon are still committed to that match. They regularly walk two villages – #17 and #37, a total trudge of nearly three miles each time – on the lookout for problems like overgrown trees, weedy gardens, or broken patio fences. When they see a problem, they notify the resident and usually chat about how to fix it. The extra eyes of B & G committee members also assist the Village crews. Pat says homeowners generally appreciate their suggestions and guidance. “We are volunteers with heart, not the grounds police. Villagers usually welcome us.”

The Amelsbergs say their B & G work rewards them, too. “We’ve met so many interesting people. We get good ideas from how other Villagers make their outside areas welcoming and pretty. And we help new residents learn about Village rules, permits, and boundaries. ‘Newcomers’ sometimes forget that LV’s landscape crews are not our personal gardeners,” Pat adds.

They also get a lot of laughs from their B & G work. “One man complained to us that he didn’t like the curtain in his neighbor’s window,” recalls Jon. “And remember the woman who said the parakeet across the golf course was making too much noise? ” Pat adds. “She wanted us to fix that.”

Jon and Pat take a major trip in their RV each year, off to interesting locales for two months. But their connection to Leisure Village is never diminished. “We love to come home,” Jon explains. “We see the houses and grounds and people in a different way when we come through the Main Gate and get reacquainted with the beauty.”

Village music lovers will continue in coming months to enjoy genres from Dixieland to classical, mostly for free, thanks to ongoing efforts of the Leisure Village Musicians Club.

As has been the case for the past 25-plus years, LVMC spokesperson Dick Guttman said, the club will continue to crank out the good notes wherever they might be lurking.

For openers, Guttman said, the renowned Grooving Easy Swing Band will continue to set up shop in the LV Assembly Room for rehearsal every Tuesday, 7:00 p.m. Attendees can enjoy coffee and sweets as the band prepares for its upcoming gigs, including the annual Village Concert-In-The-Park set for July 17th when the 17-piece band will perform in the Leisure Village Picnic Area.

Also free to all is the club’s Open Mike Night, held monthly in the AR. Both listeners and musicians are welcome to fall by for some fun and a sip o’ the grape, Guttman said.

Musicians Club membership consists of more than 100 primarily music fans and boosters who pay $10 annually to be a club champion. Guttman said the $10 membership fee supports the many Musicians Club activities, most of which are offered free to the village.

Guttman said club business meetings are conducted at 10:00 a.m. on the forth Monday of each month in the Multi-Purpose Room, and everyone is welcome.

To divert from the surmised, the club steps out of its reckoned musical mode twice a month for Monday Movie Night in the AR, for no better reason than to flash its rebel side; an unexpected curve-ball change-up. The flicks are always free, and just so you know, Movie Night on May 21, features the classic 1941 Orson Welles landmark film, “Citizen Kane.”

Musicians Club presentations for the year include several special events, including a Camarillo High School Jazz Band fund-raiser indoor concert on the afternoon of June 10 in the AR. “Admission is free, however those who wish can contribute to the band for its future efforts,” Guttman said.

Then there is the seven-piece Night Blooming Jazzmen, a Dixieland band appearing in the AR on August 12. “It is one of the best Dixieland jazz groups in the country, lead by 93-year-old Chet Jeager,” Guttman said.

On Tuesday, Oct. 16, the annual Oktoberfest featuring Hazelnuss, a "phenomenal" traditional four-piece German oom pah band, Guttman said, will perform, complete with German soft pretzels, beer and dancing for all.

Then in December, the 22-piece Ventura British Brass holiday concert is set to perform a serenade with seasonal holiday music.

While most Musicians Club events are free, Guttman said some require a nominal $5-10 admission.
Village Artists Featured at Camarillo Art Center

The LV Art Show held at the Camarillo Art Center included winning art work by (clockwise) Pat McGregor, Alice Williams, Virginia Carbajal, Gwen Zimring, and Lee Truman.

The talent of artists who live and paint in Leisure Village was enjoyed by a wider audience last month when the Camarillo Art Center hosted an art show featuring the work of LV residents. “It was exciting to share our art with people who live outside our gates in Camarillo and beyond,” said Kathy Whitesell, who lives in the Village and is the liaison between the two art groups.

More than twenty Village artists displayed their works in the CAC gallery for three weeks in April. The gallery hosts art classes during the week and is open to the public each weekend. “It’s a nice location and a privilege to show in this newly refurbished gallery,” said LV artist Patti Crichton, as she welcomed visitors to the opening day reception. “I like being more involved with our entire community.”

The collaboration between the Camarillo Art Center and LV’s Village Artists has been welcomed by both groups. Kathy Whitesell teaches watercolor classes at the Art Center weekly. A gourd class also has started there. And a month-long Art Show for Leisure Village artists has already been scheduled for 2018.

Sprucing Up Your Homes Curb Appeal

By Sharron Parker

Spring is the time to give your home curb appeal! We’re all told not to judge a book by its cover, but, like it or not, your house definitely doesn’t get the same break. Everyone who approaches your home is forming an impression before setting one foot inside. The next time you come home, stop across the street or far enough down the driveway to get a good view of the house and surroundings.

Cleaning gutters and windows, sweeping and removing debris and spider webs, a new doormat, light fixture, door-bell, door hardware, front door paint or new door (with Leisure Village Architectural permit approval), trimming, weeding, raking and even some fresh new plants will all help to create a fresh, inviting entry to your home.

Of course, the same ideas apply to the back of your home. Many times, older modular patio rooms and patio covers can be removed to create more light and a cleaner, fresher look. Original garage doors, wood fences, exterior wood patio rooms will all have to meet Leisure Village Association compliance should you want to sell your home. For more specific advice, if you are going to sell your home, an experienced Leisure Village Realtor will be of great assistance in creating the emotion desired to appeal to prospective buyers.
Residents of The Reserve
Delna Jacobs - 93 years old

“Having my two kids gave me the greatest joy and happiness of my life. From then on until now, I’m 93, my life has revolved around them. I just want them to be happy and their children to be happy. They always tell me to travel and spend money on myself, but no, I don’t want to spend anything on myself. I would rather spend it on them. I care about my family more than anything else.”

BILLIARDS CLUB

By Patrick Price

Another successful Billiards Club tournament has come to an end. The proud shooters who came in 1st, 2nd and 3rd are — SA — Gary Bunch, Gerry Sarno, and John McGaya, A1 — Chuck Dolan, Kathy Wirtz and Chuck Hall, A2 — Frank DeSimone, Ruth Stubba, and Al Bendekgey, all respectively.

It was pretty exciting with some great shots, and some lucky ones too. There are no Billiards Club activities in May (if you have the current BC calendar, the Picnic-in-the-Park has been moved to Saturday, June 23 at noon in the picnic area). But the Round Robins and LCR on Thursday nights have restarted. Be there about 6:00 p.m. to sign-up and help setup LCR. The Billiards Club is asking for contributions of soft drinks, wine, beer and snacks for these evenings. The weather is getting great for some fire-pit/patio fun on Thursday nights — with enough participation.

IN OTHER WORDS

By Frank Seiden

In May, one lesson will address how to prepare for writing about a character so that the reader gets the feel of personality and appearance and the other is on ways of bringing inanimate objects into active roles in stories. The importance of how to present a character is obvious. Bringing inanimate objects into active roles in stories or poems enhances storytelling as in children's stories, scifi or thrillers.

Our meetings in May will be on Wednesdays the 9th and 23rd. We enjoy having visitors either listen or join our discussions on writing technique. So come at 2:00 p.m. on those days and find out if we fit your interest.

LV RV CLUB

By Jean Tucker

The Leisure Village RV Club spent an exciting weekend tailgating at the Santa Anita Racetrack in April for the Kentucky Derby qualifying races. Eight rigs circled up in the track’s parking lot on Friday afternoon where the ladies proceeded to whip out their glue guns and decorate race day hats for Saturday’s events. Saturday’s festivities opened with club members inside the track Winner’s Circle while thousands of pounds of highly polished horse flesh pranced by for the first race. Club member Jeannine Ryan had the honor of issuing the “Riders Up” command to the jockeys for the race and the group retired to the Clubhouse Sierra Terrace for brunch, beverages and betting. A lovely day at the races was completed by an evening camping on the Santa Anita Parkway asphalt with a pot luck dinner, warm campfire (pit) and gorgeous California sunset.

Are you interested in a fun group of people who like to talk about the joys of traveling in an RV and occasionally take a trip in one? Join us for our usual mischief at our next meeting on Tuesday, May 8th, at 7:00 p.m. in the Santa Rosa Room (in the Clubhouse extension behind the Rec Center) and bring your suggestions for future trips!

The Men’s Club hosted the Women’s Club last month for the annual TeeTimers tournament. Because the AR kitchen was being remodeled, Club members Dave Bengtson and Chuck Dolan prepared the chicken and tri-tip at the barbecue area and then turned it over to a great crew (too numerous to name here) who served it in the AR. First place 18-hole winners were: Bob Driscoll, Ray Nakata, Gary Peck and Dick Briggs; 9-hole winners: Mary and Marv Kas sen; Sue Lind and Deb Bozayjian.

At our April meeting, Harvey Harris urged that more be done to replace dead trees along the golf course. Retired landscape architect Don Marquardt (noted Civil War lecturer, golfer and Association Board member) provided background information on the Village’s nearly 5,000 trees. He noted that dying pine trees are draining budgeted landscape funds that normally would include more plantings. He also mentioned his recent program enabling Villagers to donate trees that were planted along Leisure Village Drive. President Sarno then received an overwhelming vote of approval from the Members to allocate $500 from club funds to the Village for the purchase of two new trees. In the past, donations provided several tee-box benches for the course. Perhaps donating trees is the new show of resident concern for the Village’s aesthetic well-being.

The Pet Club is helping Dr. Deena Case-Pall with a book she is writing called "A Dog for Grandma". At the April meeting, Dr. Deena related our participation to the chocolate chips in a chocolate chip cookie. To get started, she handed out questions for us to ponder, such as “when you got to know your dog better, were there any surprises?” More to follow when Dr. Deena returns to our meeting next month.

At the next meeting on Monday, May 14 at 7:00 p.m. in the MPR, our main speaker will be Dr. Andy Miller from Mission Oaks Veterinary Clinic. We asked him to tell us about the latest improvements in veterinary care and the financial implications. In addition, he always answers general pet care questions from the audience.

Our monthly Moorpark Zoo sponsored animal visits are underway. The next two visits are scheduled for Saturday, May 19 at 2:30 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. Club members may sign up at the meeting or contact Ruth Rosen at 805-419-6675. We serve refreshments and welcome all visitors. Club dues are $5.00 per calendar year, if you would like to become a member. Contact Ruth Stubba at 496-7188.

SHOWTYME

By Jennifer Stein

UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL WITH RICK JARRETT. Rick Jarrett has performed at LV for many years. Rick’s talents are numerous to say the least. His voice has been compared to a combination of many singers including Lou Rawls, Johnny Mathis, Elvis Presley and Garth Brooks. His career started in high school musicals, which earned him a music scholarship, but that was put on hold while he served in Vietnam. Though Rick got a late start, he has become an accomplished performer with performances at the Forum & Hollywood Bowl, as well as performing on the television show “Days of Our Lives.” In addition, Rick is actively involved in honoring and protecting the rights of veterans, the care and well-being of senior citizens and promoting the importance of children’s education, rights and health issues.

Rick’s passion for music includes a variety of songs, ranging from swing, Latin, old school R&B and smooth ballads. It is with great pleasure that Showtyme welcomes back Rick Jarrett, on Friday, May 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the AR. Doors open at 6:45. Members no charge, non-members, a $3 donation. There will be a 50/50 Raffle with two winners. Refreshments following the show. Let’s pay it forward to Rick, and applaud not only his performance but his dedication to human kindness.

VETERAN’S CLUB

By Tim Palmer

The Veterans Club meets every fourth Thursday at 7:00 p.m. in the MPR. Our purpose is to share camaraderie with fellow residents who have served in the Armed Forces. We have had speakers who have combat experience in World War II, both on the ground and in the air, as well as authors who have written about combat heroes. Our May speaker is Brenda Cheatham, who lived in Siagon, Vietnam in 1967 – 1968 while married to her husband Tom, who was a United Press International correspondent. During that time, Brenda worked for the Naval Commander, US Navy Department of Construction.

We want veterans to feel proud that they wrote the blank check to Uncle Sam, willingly offering their lives in the defense of our country. Veterans, their families and any interested residents are invited to join former service members for relaxing esprit-de-corps and story-telling. Refreshments will be served.

Joining the 2% Club

On November 19, 2017 I attended the National Eagle Scout Court of Honor to celebrate four young men having earned the highest achievement in Scouting. They called themselves the Pineapple Vikings (although the meaning of this escapes me). As each boy is accepted by the Board of Review, they are given a number representing the order they completed all requirements to become an “Eagle.” BSA Troop 127 assigned numbers 95 through 98 consecutively. Admittedly, I was personally unaware of the difficulty of this endeavor and would like to share this journey with my friends and neighbors.

Since 1912 until present, more than two and one half-million Boy Scouts have earned the Eagle Scout rank. Only about two percent of Boy Scouts go on to become an “Eagle.” To earn the Eagle Scout rank the Scout must fulfill specific requirements in the areas of leadership, service, and outdoor skills. There are 138 badges available. Of these, 21 must be earned to qualify.

One of the four outstanding young men, number 98 was my grandson, Justin Zilberstein, who earned all 138 badges. Since the inception of Scouting, one hundred eight years ago, only three hundred fifty four Scouts have managed to achieve that distinction. Justin completed his Eagle Scout project at Paramount Ranch in Agoura. Aided by the Santa Monica Conservancy, Scouts and volunteers constructed a rodent proof storage room and restored three outdoor picnic tables.

Justin credits his parents, who encouraged him to join scouting, and his father mentored him throughout the process. He expressed his gratitude to his troop leader and his patrol the Pineapple Vikings, and the Scouts in troop 127. Justin states, “The benefits of scouting stretch into both schooling, business and plans to pursue in college.” He will study international business with an emphasis on Chinese relations.

At only eighteen years of age, Justin has accomplished much. In high school he was Captain of the tennis team and is ranked 706th in the nation. So far, eleven colleges have accepted him, but he hasn’t made his final selection.

Way to go “Number 98”!

Famed humorist Art Buchwald recorded a very funny piece years back on how to do the Louvre in Paris in six minutes. I was reminded of this the other day when Kathy Wirtz was telling me a story about her mom, who made this great fudge dish in the microwave in three minutes. She called it “Three Minute Fudge”. So why do you not see that recipe below?

First off all, we did desert last month, second of all, and this selfish, I'm thinking of buying an “Instant Pot,” and Kathy promised me her chicken noodle soup recipe. Instant Pot is a new-fangled combination cooker that can act as a pressure cooker, slow cooker, rice cooker, yogurt maker et al... I gotta have that appliance. If you hate to cook or love to cook but hate to clean up, you might want to check it out. And third of all, my other choice was what Kathy refers to as the main stay of the East Coast Diet.. mashed potatoes and gravy. Now I LOVE mashed potatoes and gravy, in fact I had a restaurant idea once that was going to be called “GRAVIES”... where every dish on the menu was in some kind of gravy. Ummm!

Instant Pot Chicken Noodle Soup Ingredients
- 2 tbsp butter
- 1 large onion chopped
- 2 medium carrots chopped
- 2 stalks celery chopped
- 1 tsp pepper
- 1 tbsp parsley chopped (1 tsp if dry)
- 1 tsp thyme dry
- 1 tsp oregano (1 tsp if dry)
- 4 cups chicken broth
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 2 lbs cooked chicken (use at least one chicken breast)
- 4 cups water (if you boil chicken first, keep water to add)
- 5 oz egg noodles uncooked (about two cups)

I wouldn't be caught dead using an "Instantpot"!

Did you know that the DMV has the power to permanently take away your driver’s license if they:
- Receive information from a doctor that you have a medical condition that could impact safe driving
- Receive a notice from the police that you have had an accident and may be a dangerous driver
- Receive a report that you are an unsafe driver from a family member or a friend who is willing to identify themselves

A loss of your driver's license results in a loss of independence, freedom and the ability to go where you want, when you want.

I have handled many Reexaminations over the past 17 years and have a very high success rate. I know how the process works and what we need to do to maximize our chances of getting your license (and your independence) back. Don’t try to face the DMV alone – call me and together we will devise a plan to get your license back.

COMMON EYE PROBLEMS IN AGING ADULTS & RISK REDUCTION TIPS

By Andy Smith

Like all of our primary senses, we tend to take our vision for granted. It helps us navigate everyday life, from the moment we wake up to the time we go to sleep - and yet, how often do we really stop to think about the biological processes involved, or even the possibility that our eyes might fail us?

For many aging adults, the concern of failing eyesight is quite real. Past the age of 60, a number of eye diseases can begin to develop, a majority of which have the potential to permanently damage one’s vision. What’s more, the symptoms associated with these diseases often do not manifest until later in the development cycle. So, while one’s vision may seem completely normal, there may be problems brewing.

Here are the four eye diseases seniors should be aware of:

• Glaucoma: Technically a group of eye diseases, glaucoma is the result of pressure buildup inside the eye, which ultimately damages the eye’s optic nerve. As glaucoma progresses, one may experience his or her peripheral vision to weaken. Prior to that, however, there are no initial symptoms. In fact, it’s estimated that nearly 1 million people have glaucoma but are unaware.

• Age-related macular degeneration (AMD): Although it rarely results in blindness, AMD deteriorates one’s central vision because of damage to part of the retina called the macula. With this central or “straight ahead” vision affected, activities such as driving or reading become challenging.

• Cataracts: Defined as the clumping of proteins within the lens of the eye, a cataract causes cloudy or opaque vision. Those who have had vision affected by cataracts must have surgery to remove the cloudy lens and replace it with a new one.

• Diabetic retinopathy: This is a complication of diabetes, wherein blood vessels in the eyes burst and bleed, eventually detaching the retina. Those with diabetic retinopathy experience shadows or dark objects that float within their field of vision. While there is no cure, laser treatment is often effective in preventing blindness before the retina becomes too damaged.

RISK REDUCTION:

What Seniors Can Do

Like all of our organs, eyes are not immune to the process of aging. A gradual decrease in vision may be normal as we age, but it’s not uncommon for seniors to have excellent vision. Encourage your aging loved ones to take the following steps to ensure their eyesight remains sharp late into life:

• Schedule a comprehensive eye exam annually (at a minimum), to check for:
  - Visual acuity (measuring sight at varying distances)
  - Pupil dilation (widening the pupil using drops, to determine signs of disease)
  - Tonometry (measuring fluid pressure within the eyes)

• Protect eyes from ultraviolet light. If going outside when it’s sunny, be sure to wear a wide-brimmed hat and sunglasses.

• Don’t smoke, or take steps to quit. The chances of developing many of the aforementioned eye diseases increase dramatically if you smoke.

• Exercise regularly and follow a healthy diet (with physician’s approval), with foods high in antioxidants, omega 3 fatty acids, vitamins A and C, and magnesium. Pay close attention to sugar intake especially, as studies indicate sugar has a significant impact on eye disease formation. Always check with your physician before making any dietary changes.

• Notify your optometrist immediately if you notice any changes in vision.
